

I fly over 70 segments a year and absolutely do not want to have to listen to cell phone calls when I am trying to sleep or read or do work. I am a heavy cell phone user, but try not to impose on others tranquility. Unfortunately many people have little regard for others. Frankly if you approve usage during flights I believe you will see a serious increase in disturbances and passenger conflicts.

I vote always, but do not intervene too much in the political process, but would certainly write to each of my senators and rep to take action against commissioners who support the use of phones during flights.
